

From Hopeless to Happy in a Hurry!

When I first met with Debra she was drowning in relational chaos and anger. The inner turmoil was so great I could hardly follow her train of thought. Her problems were way beyond me but this letter from her tells what Jesus the Healer did!

Debra A.

Neil,

*I am so grateful that you are doing Theophostic Prayer Ministry*. Working with you has changed my life, daily it is different. I am different.*

For instance, I am able to sit now, relax and enjoy moments of my life. My compulsiveness to distract myself with working, cleaning, thinking, solving problems, etc. has stopped. Because of this, I am able to hear God more clearly and more often in my life and get closer to him. I am also able to connect with my children more. With a free mind, I am able to be playful and spend quality time with my kids. This has been a great gift and only one of many received since we have started this work.

After the first session, I received clarity on why I have always kept so enormously busy with all of my time, running from thing to thing. I realized I was running away from feelings, such as the ones that come up in these sessions. I received a vision of myself at peace, not running. Less than 3 months later I am living it.

News:

We know that at least 2% of those of you receiving this letter are actually reading it because you let us know about the error in last month's quiz: Question 7 the answer was e not d. oops....Thanks! You silent ones were just being gracious right? Wink + smile.

Next month we will have a grad party for our second homeschool graduate, Julie Grace. Some of you may remember that we gave her the name Grace on Nov. 17th '87 because it was only by God's grace that she wasn't born on a logging road on the top of Vancouver Is. as we were journeying from our mission station at Esperanza to "civilization" two weeks before she was due! Julie continues to be a blessing.

It's not the one but getting closer!

Another time, I was in the midst of turmoil, feeling enormous fear in my relationship with my husband. My fear of being abandoned was so great, I could hardly function and was trembling a lot of the time. I had a session where I went back and faced my true feelings regarding the divorce my parents went through. I faced the fear and sadness about being abandoned at that age. After this session, these fears were gone. As our relationship struggles continued, fear of being left and abandoned ceased to be an issue for me. It freed me up to focus more on the real issues between us.

After another session, I received a vision of God presenting me with a surprise gift (being my future) and I was being asked to receive and be patient, allowing God to give the gift to me. This vision was in response to me feeling sad about the breakup of my family. Shortly after this session, my husband and I began reconnecting and now are getting back together again. What I got from the vision was about being able to “wait on God” and it is through my practice of doing this that I was able to receive this gift that he had for me... my family back together again.

The reason I believe this process works is because there is a facilitator who helps me by asking the right questions. I can sit alone with my feelings and pray to God to reveal truths and it does work. But with Theophostic prayer, it works faster and deeper because the facilitator is able to guide me through the darkness and keep me on track going towards the belief that is underneath all of the pain. The process leaves no room for Satan to deceive in the midst of all of the hurt and anguish. It leaves only room for the truth from God and that is what heals.

Thank you from the bottom of my heart,

Debra A.

If you look up the word “amazed” in your Bible concordance you’ll find many phrases like “and they were exceedingly amazed” and “they were amazed at the mighty power of God.” That is how I often feel after a ministry session. Amazed.

It’s almost unbelievable to witness the transforming work of Christ! Rom: 12:2

Gem from a mentor: The renewed mind is able to see life situations as God sees them.

Thank-you so much for your prayers and financial support. Together we are making a difference.

Prayer:

Please ask God, “Who do I know that might be interested in being a part of this Noble Maritime vision of ‘Refreshing Souls on Living Water’?” We would love to share with them.
